Absorb
Reflect
Commit

Episode 13 Action Items

Episode Summary

How do grace and truth apply to leadership?
Explores the behaviors that make up grace, such as empathy, kindness, patience, poise, and humility, and the attributes of truth, including honesty, transparency, integrity, and accountability. Using case studies and real-life examples, Ted emphasizes the need to harmonize grace and truth in leadership.

Action Items

1. Develop an attitude of gratitude

Start with gratitude to blend grace and truth in your leadership style.

2. Read "The Five Graces of Life and Leadership" by Gary Burnison

A great resource for incorporating grace in your life.

3. Read the article "This May be the Most Powerful Trait of Great Leaders" on the crowdspring website.

A great resource for understanding why truth is important in leadership.

Recommended Reading

- The Leadership Challenge by Kouzes/Posner
- Good to Great by James Collins
- The Five Graces of Life and Leadership by Gary Burnison
- This May Be The Most Powerful Trait Of Great Leaders - crowdspring Blog
- For more inspiration, instruction, or information, visit https://grace4success.com/